Name: _____Date: _____ Class: _____

Georgia: Its Heritage and Its Promise
Chapter 9: Georgia in the Trust Period
Internet Activity

Some of the first British settlements in Georgia were forts. In this lesson, you will learn about life in these early defense communities and what remains of them today.

Part I: View and read each link to learn about Fort King George and Fort Frederica. Study the photos to get a better understanding of these early buildings in Georgia. Complete the table with information found on the websites.

Fort King George	• Fort King George State Park (be sure to see the Photo Album)
	• Historical Marker
	• Historical Marker 2 with Photos
	• New Georgia Encyclopedia
Fort Frederica	• Fort Frederica National Monument
	• Battle of the Bloody Marsh
	• New Georgia Encyclopedia

	Fort King George	Fort Frederica
Dates the fort was in use
Purpose of the fort
Location (nearby waterways, etc.)
Construction material
Named for...
Near what present day town?
Importance in Georgia history

Name: _____ Date: _____ Class: _____

Part II – Use what you have learned to complete the Venn diagram. On the left side, include at least four facts about Fort King George that are different from Fort Frederica. On the right, include at least four facts about Fort Frederica that are different from Fort King George. In the center, where the circles intersect, include at least four facts that apply to both of the forts.

Fort King George   Fort Frederica

Part III – What Do You Think?
Imagine that you could travel back in time to either Fort King George or Fort Frederica at the time that they were in use. Your time travel will last one month! Which fort would you choose to visit? On a separate sheet of paper, explain in a paragraph which fort you would choose and why. You might include answers to these questions: What would you like to see most on your visit? What would you want to take with you and why? What types of people and things would you want to see most? What would you want to avoid?